

January 22, 2015

Miyabi Onitsuka grabs snowboard slopestyle world gold title, 16-year-old from Japan women's best

We are delighted to announce that Miyabi Onitsuka, a Japanese snowboarder, won the world slopestyle championship and took gold in the women's event on Wednesday at Kreischberg, Austria. She is 16-year-old and is the youngest winner in the world.

We, NSD, has been supporting her in accordance with the personal sponsor contract. It is also a great honor with us.

Congratulations, Miyabi!!

